

JUSTICE GOULD WILL SOON ASSUME DUTIES

Winter Term of Supreme Court at Hand.

THOM TO BE SENTENCED

Penalty for Manslaughter is Imprisonment for a Period Not Exceeding Fifteen Years.

The real work of the winter term of the Supreme Court of the District will not begin until Monday, January 12. By that time it is expected that Ashley M. Gould, who was nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate as an associate member of the court, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Bradley, will have taken the oath of office and assumed his judicial duties.

Mr. Gould's nomination was confirmed some weeks ago, and at that time he said he did not desire to take his place upon the bench until his successor as District Attorney was ready to take charge of the office. In this connection it is said on good authority that the nomination of Morgan Hawley Beach for the office of District Attorney will be confirmed on Wednesday or Thursday next by the Senate, and that he will immediately qualify for the position.

It is not known whether the members of the Supreme Court of the District will meet on Monday to make a reassignment of the members of the bench to the different branches of the court. This is usually done the first Monday in January, but owing to the fact that Justice-elect Gould has not yet subscribed to the oath of office, the assignment of the justices may be postponed until Monday, January 12.

Mr. Gould has the business of his office up to date, and there is nothing that might arise in connection with the duties of the District Attorney which will prevent him from taking his position on the bench when his successor is appointed.

The case of Charles Thom, who was recently convicted of manslaughter, for the killing of his wife, Ida Thom, is the only case on the criminal docket which Mr. Gould prosecuted personally that is not closed. When a verdict was returned against Thom, Justice Anderson, who presided at the trial, ordered the prisoner remanded to jail to await sentence. It is expected that he will very soon be summoned to appear for sentence. The penalty for manslaughter is imprisonment for a period not exceeding fifteen years, and a fine of not more than $1,000.

CITY BREVITIES.

J. T. Petty, the Auditor, has forwarded to the District Commissioners papers in the case of the title to lots 14 and 15, Meridian Hill, parts of which were condemned for the extension of Sixteenth Street, showing that the ownership of the land is vested in D. W. C. Broadhead. Mr. Petty recommends that the papers be sent to the Assessor and that he be directed to pass to the credit of Mr. Broadhead the sum of $1,123.20, one-half of the amount awarded for damages.

The District Commissioners have directed their secretary to inform Louis L. Hooper, principal of the Washington School for Boys, that it is impossible to assign permanent numbers to houses on Wisconsin Avenue until the streets in that locality are more solidly built up.

The District Commissioners have directed their secretary to reply to a communication from R. J. Harris, of 321 G Street northwest, to the effect that the question raised by him relative to the price of bituminous coal is one not within the jurisdiction of the Board.

R. W. Dutton, chief engineer of the Fire Department, has requested the District Commissioners to secure from Congress a deficiency appropriation of $500 to become immediately available for necessary repairs to engine houses.

Following the instructions of A. B. Duwall, Corporation Counsel, the District Commissioners have directed that the tax sales of certain property in the name of R. G. Donaldson be canceled. It appears that the property in the advertisement for the tax sales was improperly described.

Pursuant to the request of B. H. Warner, the District Commissioners have authorized R. W. Dutton, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, to receive and transmit any contributions which may be made to the Shepherd Memorial Fund. Chief Dutton will present the matter to the officers and men of the department.

The Commissioners have directed the District Chemist to test any specimens of kerosene, gasoline, and sample oils which may be submitted to him by the Fire Marshal, and submit a report thereon to the Fire Department. The purpose of this additional test is to obtain another disinterested witness in court when it becomes necessary to prosecute cases under the regulations.

The Sulphur Salts of Asia Company, of Chicago, will be informed by the District Commissioners that they have no printed matter relating to the regulations for taxation of corporations or organizing and seeking to engage in business in the District.

A negro who refused to give his name or address called at the Army and Navy Club last night and said that he had a pocketbook for Capt. Edward O. Tausig of the navy. He refused to leave the parcel at the club. The police are looking for him. Captain Tausig lost at the Baltimore and Ohio station on December 20 a pocketbook containing $50 in bills and a Treasury check for $300.

PHILLIPS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY HIS BROTHER

Bleeds to Death Before Assistance Arrives.

Charles Phillips was shot by his brother, Irving Phillips, near his home on Bunker Hill Road yesterday afternoon. He bled to death in about twenty minutes. Just before his death he told a policeman that the shooting was accidental.

The brothers and their nephew, Lester Souder, went out to shoot crows. Seeing some of the birds, Irving Phillips became excited and pulled the trigger of his shotgun. The load struck Charles in the right thigh, severing the femoral artery. He fell and was unable to rise. He was taken to his home by his wife, Thomas Hardesty, a brother-in-law of the wounded man, rode to Brookland, a mile away, and informed policeman Bradley, who seized a team standing near the Brookland station and succeeded in reaching the Phillips' home in time to get the dying man's statement. Two physicians arrived shortly before Phillips died, but were unable to check the flow of blood.

Irving Phillips and the little Souder boy were conveyed to the Tenth precinct station, where their statements were taken by Coroner Nevitt. They were then discharged.

Charles Phillips was about twenty-five years old, and conducted a meat business about Brookland and along the Bunker Hill Road. He was recently married. Irving Phillips, who is about eighteen years old, came from school in New York to spend the holidays. He expected to return to school on Monday. Their father is a meat dealer at the Center Market.

IS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

The Principal Asset of the Successful Business Man.

The head of the largest meat packing industry in the world, for many years prior to his death, never traveled without his physician; everywhere he was accompanied by his medical adviser; he hired him for his exclusive attendance by the year and considered the large salary paid for such service as a part of his business investment. He did not do this because he was a hypochondriac, in constant fear of illness and death; on the contrary, he was an exceptionally robust man, but he realized that the principal asset in his enormous business was his own personal health, and to keep physically and mentally well and strong was a business proposition, pure and simple.

It is so with every business man and woman. A slight cold in the head or throat may pass off in a few days, or it may develop into pneumonia, Chronic Catarrh, or an irritating throat trouble; in any event its departure should be hastened by some simple antiseptic preparation like Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach and destroy the germs of Catarrh, Pneumonia, Consumption, before they have a chance to propagate and thrive in the inflamed mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

To burden the stomach with drugs and stimulants is a foolish and often dangerous way to combat a cold, because stimulants are always followed by corresponding depression and where there is any tendency to pneumonia increases the danger by increasing the heart's action.

A popular school teacher in Pittsburgh writes: "I am a walking advertisement for Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; the change from a crowded, steam-heated school-room to a raw, chill out doors kept me nursing colds in the head and throat from fall to spring. Throat irritation made it difficult for me to read or speak and conduct my classes. My druggist, with whom I spent a large part of my salary for cough lozenges and potash tablets, one day advised me to try Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and I shall never cease to thank him. I still catch cold occasionally, but I stop it in a day or two with the tablets, and I have done missionary work with my pupils to such an extent that coughs and colds are almost unknown amongst the youngsters in my room."

THE NEWS OF GEORGETOWN.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at Christ Episcopal Church, Thirty-first and O Streets, over the remains of the Rev. John B. Trimble, D. D., who died Tuesday morning at his home, 3009 O Street northwest, after an illness of several weeks. The interment was made at Oak Hill Cemetery, where grange services were conducted by Worthy Master Aaron Jones. The pallbearers were Aaron Jones, E. B. Norris, F. J. Derthick, C. J. Bell, J. B. Ager, and J. H. Brigham.

The son and daughter of the deceased arrived here yesterday from Pueblo, Col., where they live. "Matthew Trimble, of the District Assessor's Office, is a brother.

Dr. Trimble was one of the founders of the Order of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, of which he had been secretary for eighteen years. In his early days he was employed in the Treasury Department. Though born in New Jersey, he had resided the greater part of his life in Washington.

John Cumberland, for many years a boat builder, dropped dead yesterday at the home of his son, Robert, with whom he had been living at 352 Twenty-sixth Street northwest. Mr. Cumberland had just recovered from a stroke of paralysis, from which he had been suffering for about a year. After a long walk yesterday he was stricken with paralysis of the heart, death ensuing instantly. The deceased for many years had been in business with his son, trading as John Cumberland & Son. The firm had boat houses at the foot of Thirty-second, and at the foot of F Street northwest. The funeral will probably take place Monday from the residence of his son.

Since the wholesale legal attack on the proprietors of the road houses along the Conduit Road, recently, three of them have closed up and vacated the buildings, occupied by them in some instances, for years. Even the Cabin John bar is tightly closed.

The annual election of officers of the Capital Traction Street Railway Company will take place Tuesday evening, January 14, at union station, Thirty-sixth and M Streets northwest.

Linthicum Institute will reopen Monday, January 5, at 7 p. m., when the real work of the year will begin. Each member of the faculty was remembered on Christmas Day by the pupils.

The Linthicum Dramatic Club will give a dance at Linthicum Hall, in O Street, on the evening of January 16.

The Georgetown Citizens' Association will hold its regular meeting Monday evening at Co-operative Hall, in Thirty-second Street, with President B. T. Janney in the chair.

The fire engine was called to 2917 Q Street northwest, yesterday afternoon. The blaze was slight and put out before the arrival of the engine.

DISTRICT CONFEDERATES THANK SENATOR FORAKER

Appreciate Bill Regarding Their Comrades' Graves.

The bill recently introduced in the Senate by Senator Joseph B. Foraker of Ohio, providing for the care of the graves of the Confederates buried in Northern States, and appropriating $100,000 to carry the provisions of the bill into effect, has appealed to Confederate camps of the District, which have expressed their appreciation.

At the meeting of the Confederate Veterans' Association, Camp 171, of the District of Columbia, in its hall, at the corner of Eleventh and E Streets northwest, New Year night, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That this association is gratified to learn of the introduction in the United States Senate on the 8th of December, 1902, by Hon. Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio, of a bill providing for the proper care by the Government of the graves wherein lie all that is mortal of our devoted comrades who died in the North in the war.

"Resolved further, That the thanks of this association be extended to Senator Foraker for his action, and that the secretary be directed to furnish him with a copy of this resolution."

The Charles Broadway Rouss Camp, United Confederate Veterans, of this city, also adopted resolutions at their last meeting expressing their thanks to Senator Foraker.

PRICES TO FILL MARKET BASKET NO LOWER

Quotations Maintained in Spite of Light Buying.

Although there was a light demand for poultry, meats, and general provisions today, as a result of the overstocking so natural just before a holiday, prices were well maintained, and show few changes from the quotations of one week ago, and the early part of the present week.

Choice hen turkeys from nearby points sold at 25 and 26 cents a pound, and young gobblers brought 23 and 24 cents a pound. The supply is gradually shortening up, with no Western shipments in sight. Broiling chickens were from 25 to 30 cents a pound; roasters, Western stock, 15 cents a pound, and choice stock from Virginia from 20 cents to 25 cents a pound. Steaming chickens sold at 16 cents a pound. Capons sold a few buyers at 25 and 28 cents. Domestic ducks ranged from 22 cents to 25 cents, with a brisk demand. The retail price of our devoted ducks is expected to remain firm, owing to the growing scarcity in the supply. Choice geese are bringing from 16 to 18 cents.

Fresh country eggs were likewise very scarce. All the stock in sight sold at 25 cents and 38 cents a dozen. There is a liberal supply of ordinary refrigerated stock at 30 and 32 cents a dozen. The demand for these eggs was somewhat restricted.

Florida fruit and vegetables were normal, with a tendency to increase the price of oranges from 40 to 60 cents a dozen, according to quality. String beans and green peas brought 75 cents a half peck; lettuce, 10 cents a head, and egg plants 15 cents each. Receipts from the South continue light. General market stuff was quoted as follows: Sweet potatoes, 25 cents a half peck; white potatoes, 90 cents a bushel, and 20 cents a half peck; turnips from 10 cents to 15 cents a half peck; celery, from 10 cents to 25 cents a bunch, according to size and quality; cranberries, 12 cents a quart; squashes, four for 25 cents, and cauliflower very scarce at from 25 to 35 cents a head.

MRS. TUMEY YEAVES

$200 TO TWO CHURCHES

The will of Catherine Tumey, dated April 10, 1899, has been filed for probate in the office of the Register of Wills for the District. There is also a codicil dated May 15 last. She directs that her estate be divided as follows:

To St. Agnes' Church, Albany, N. Y., $100; to the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception at Albany, N. Y., $100, for the use of the poor of that parish; to the children of her nephew Desmond S. Lamb, $200; to her niece Julia Tumey, $400; and to her niece, Margaret Lamb Brannagan, all her household effects.

Of the remainder of her estate three-quarters is left to Margaret L. Brannagan, and the rest to Anna E. Lamb.

William Clipper, by his will, dated February 21, 1899, leaves his estate to his wife, Margaret D. Clipper.

AN ORDER TO PREVENT SPREAD OF TEXAS FEVER

The Secretary of the Department of Agriculture has issued an order closing the open season for the shipment of Southern cattle to points north, except for immediate slaughter. This is to prevent the spread of Texas fever, a malady prevalent with cattle in the Southern States, and of little moment in that section.

In the North, however, the disease proves serious, causing the death of many cattle. The disease is spread by ticks, a small insect that buries itself in the hides of cattle. The insects fall to the ground and then get on other cattle in the herd. Cattle raised in Southern States become immune. In the North, the ticks generate the fever, which corresponds to the malaria fever of man.
